

Justin
Stanelle

NATAL CHART

December 17th, 1987

Appleton, WI

5:06 PM

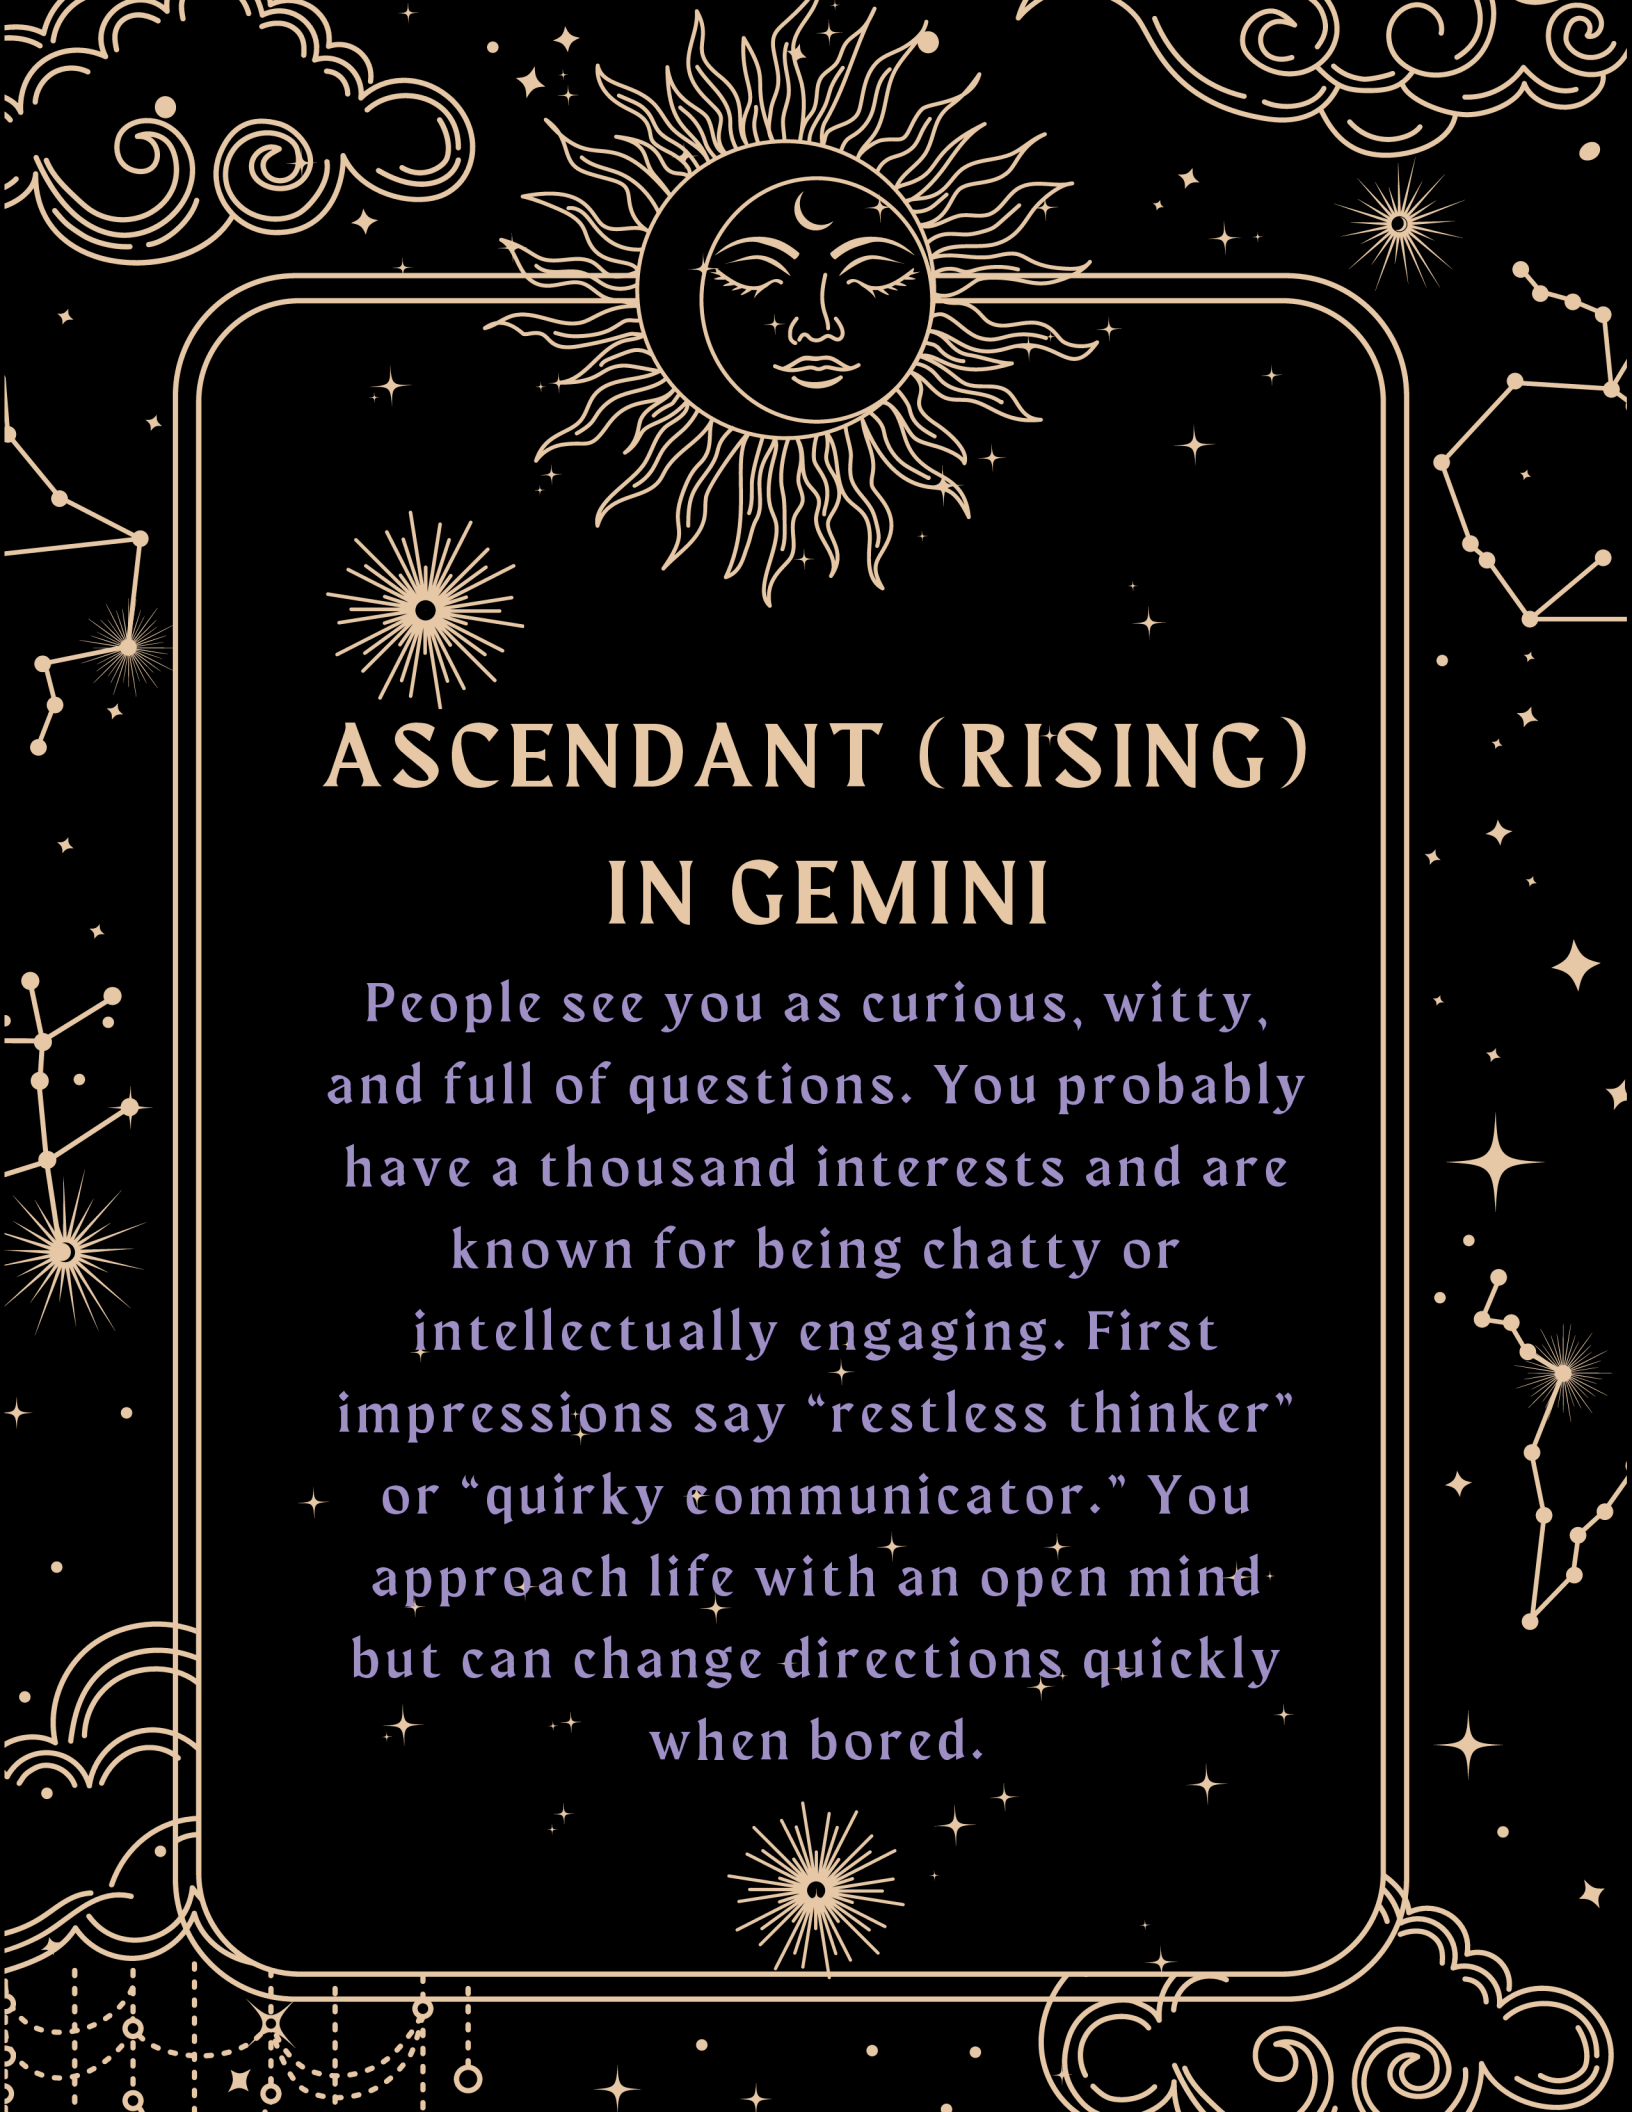

SUN IN SAGITTARIUS

At your core, you're an explorer—mentally, spiritually, and sometimes literally. You're philosophical, independent, and crave meaning in everything you do. There's a natural optimism to you, even when things are rough.
You're not a fan of confinement—
physical, emotional, or intellectual.
Freedom is your fuel.

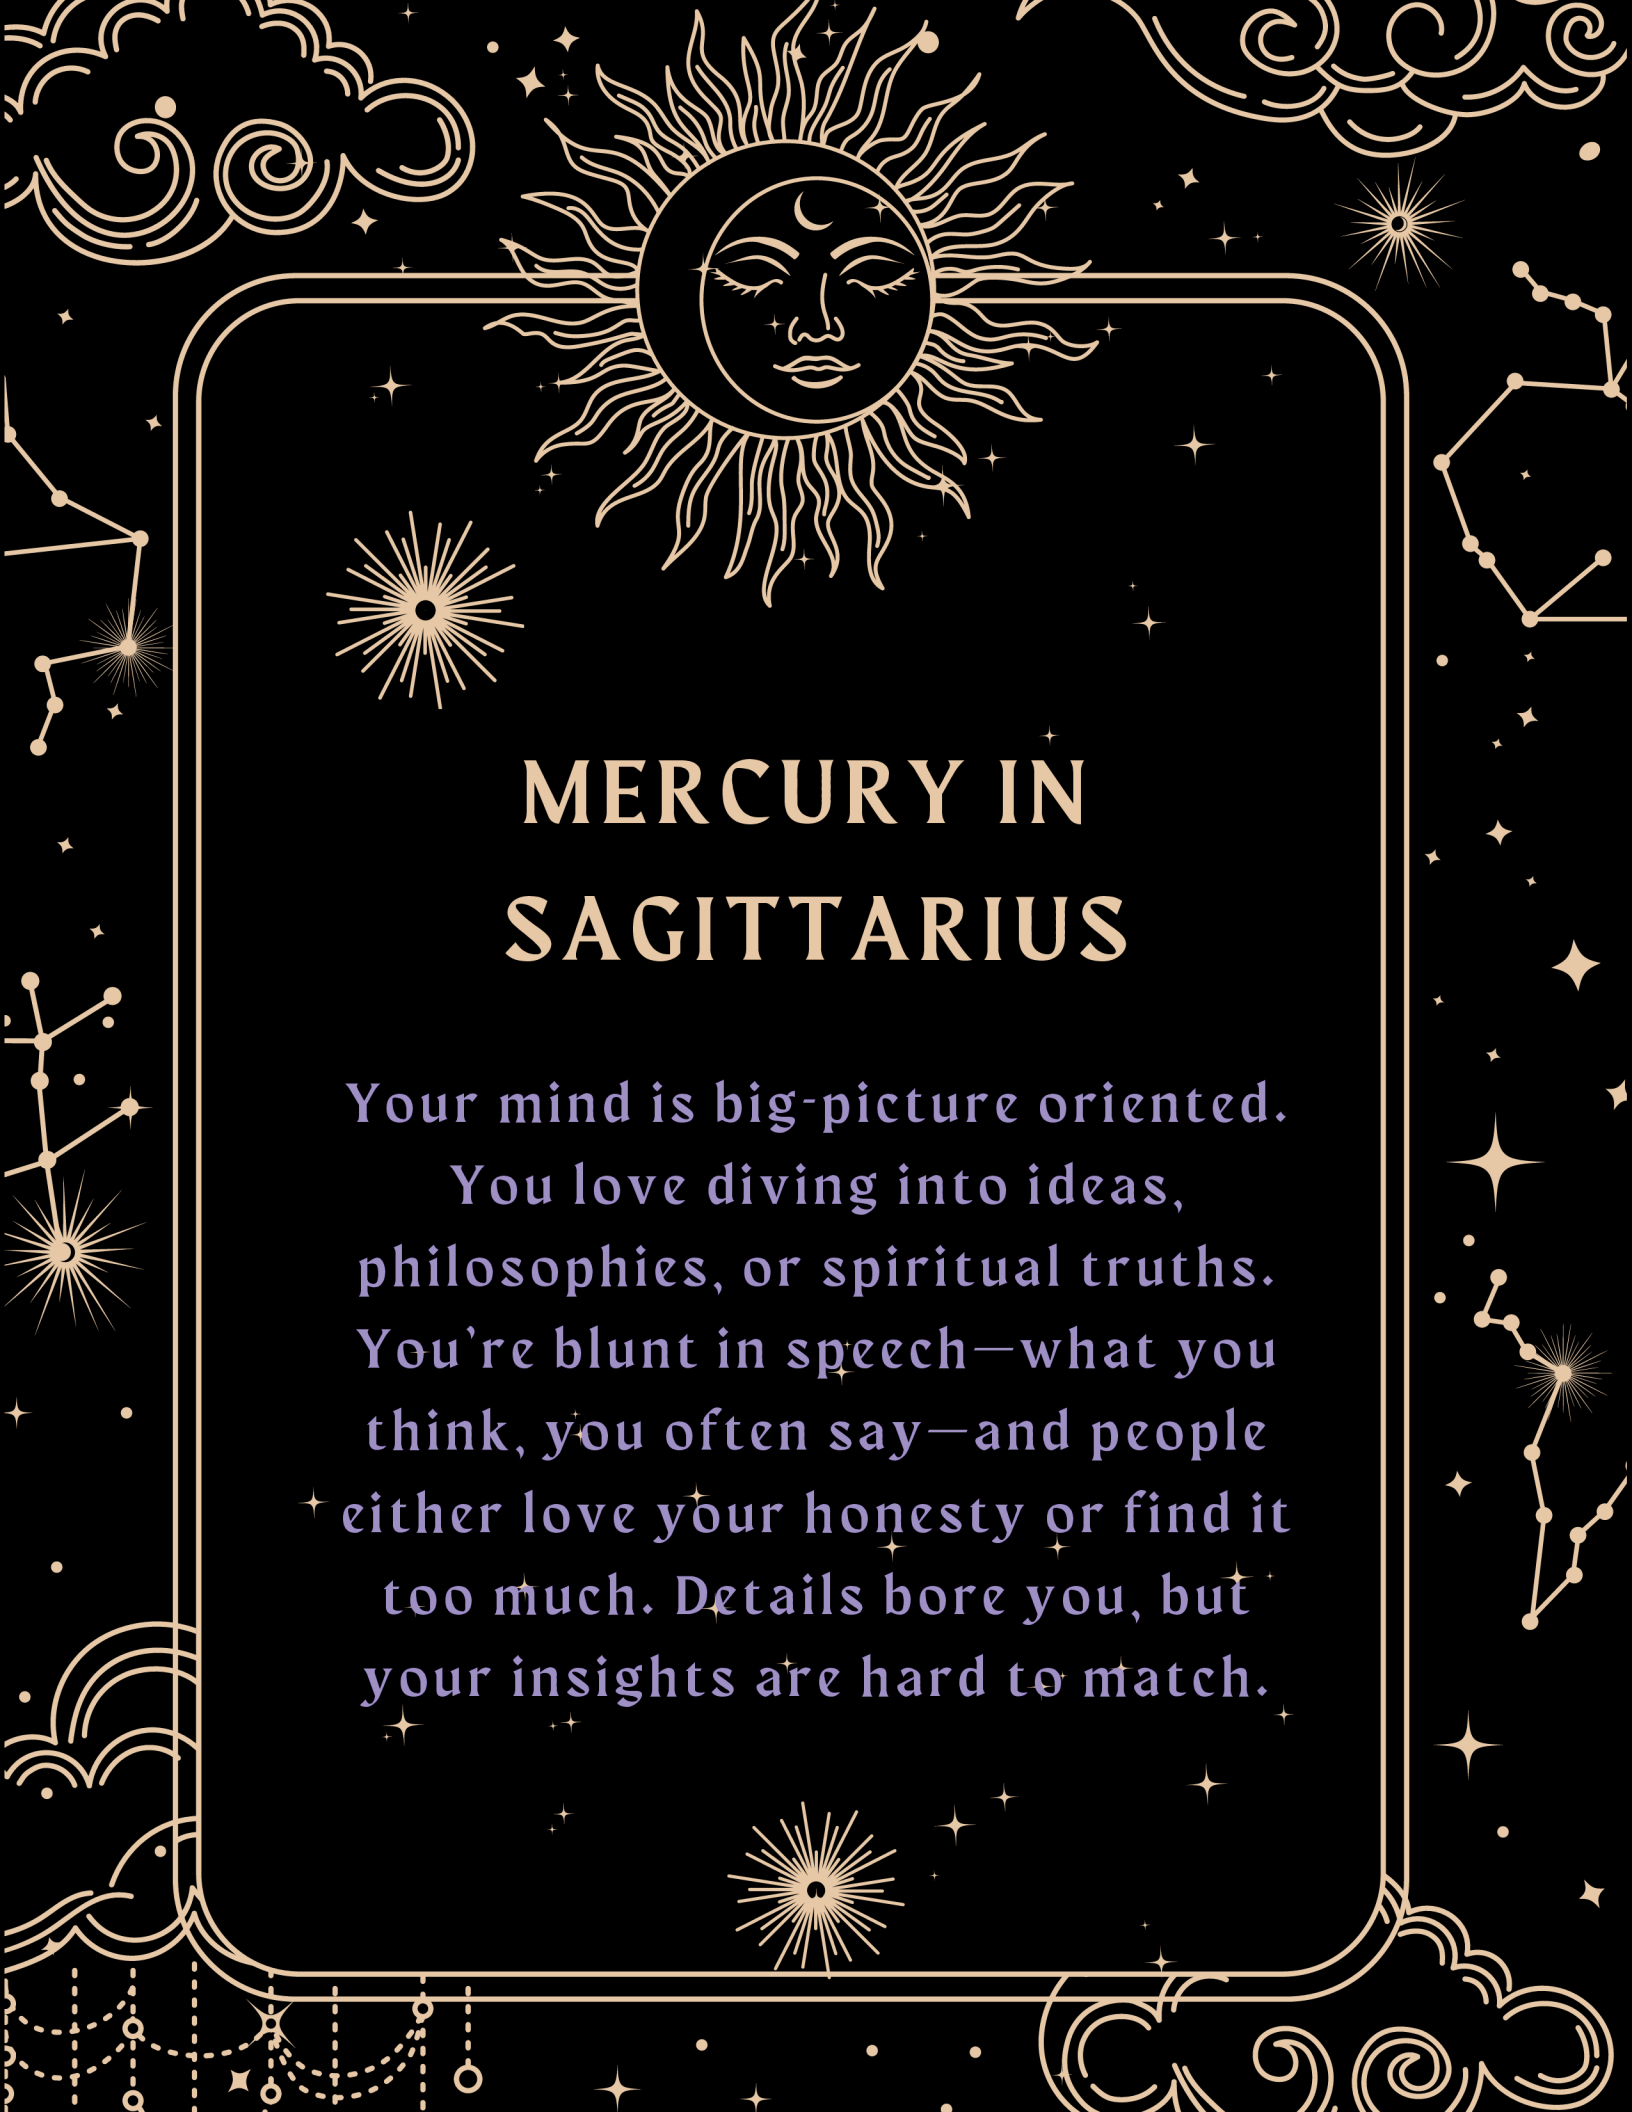

MOON IN LEO

Emotionally, you're bold and expressive. You need to feel special in your relationships and often have a flair for drama—whether onstage or in life. Your heart is huge, and you're generous, but rejection or being overlooked can sting more than you'd ever let on.

ASCENDANT (RISING) IN GEMINI

People see you as curious, witty, and full of questions. You probably have a thousand interests and are known for being chatty or intellectually engaging. First impressions say “restless thinker” or “quirky communicator.” You approach life with an open mind but can change directions quickly when bored.

MERCURY IN SAGITTARIUS

Your mind is big-picture oriented.
You love diving into ideas,
philosophies, or spiritual truths.
You're blunt in speech—what you think, you often say—and people either love your honesty or find it too much. Details bore you, but your insights are hard to match.

VENUS IN AQUARIUS

In love and friendship, you're quirky, independent, and drawn to people who think differently.

You're affectionate in unconventional ways and value mental connection over traditional romance. Partners must give you space—or risk losing your interest.

MARS IN VIRGO

When you act, it's with precision.

You're driven by a need to be useful and efficient. You tackle problems analytically and are often your own toughest critic. There's a quiet intensity to how you chase goals—less fire, more focus!

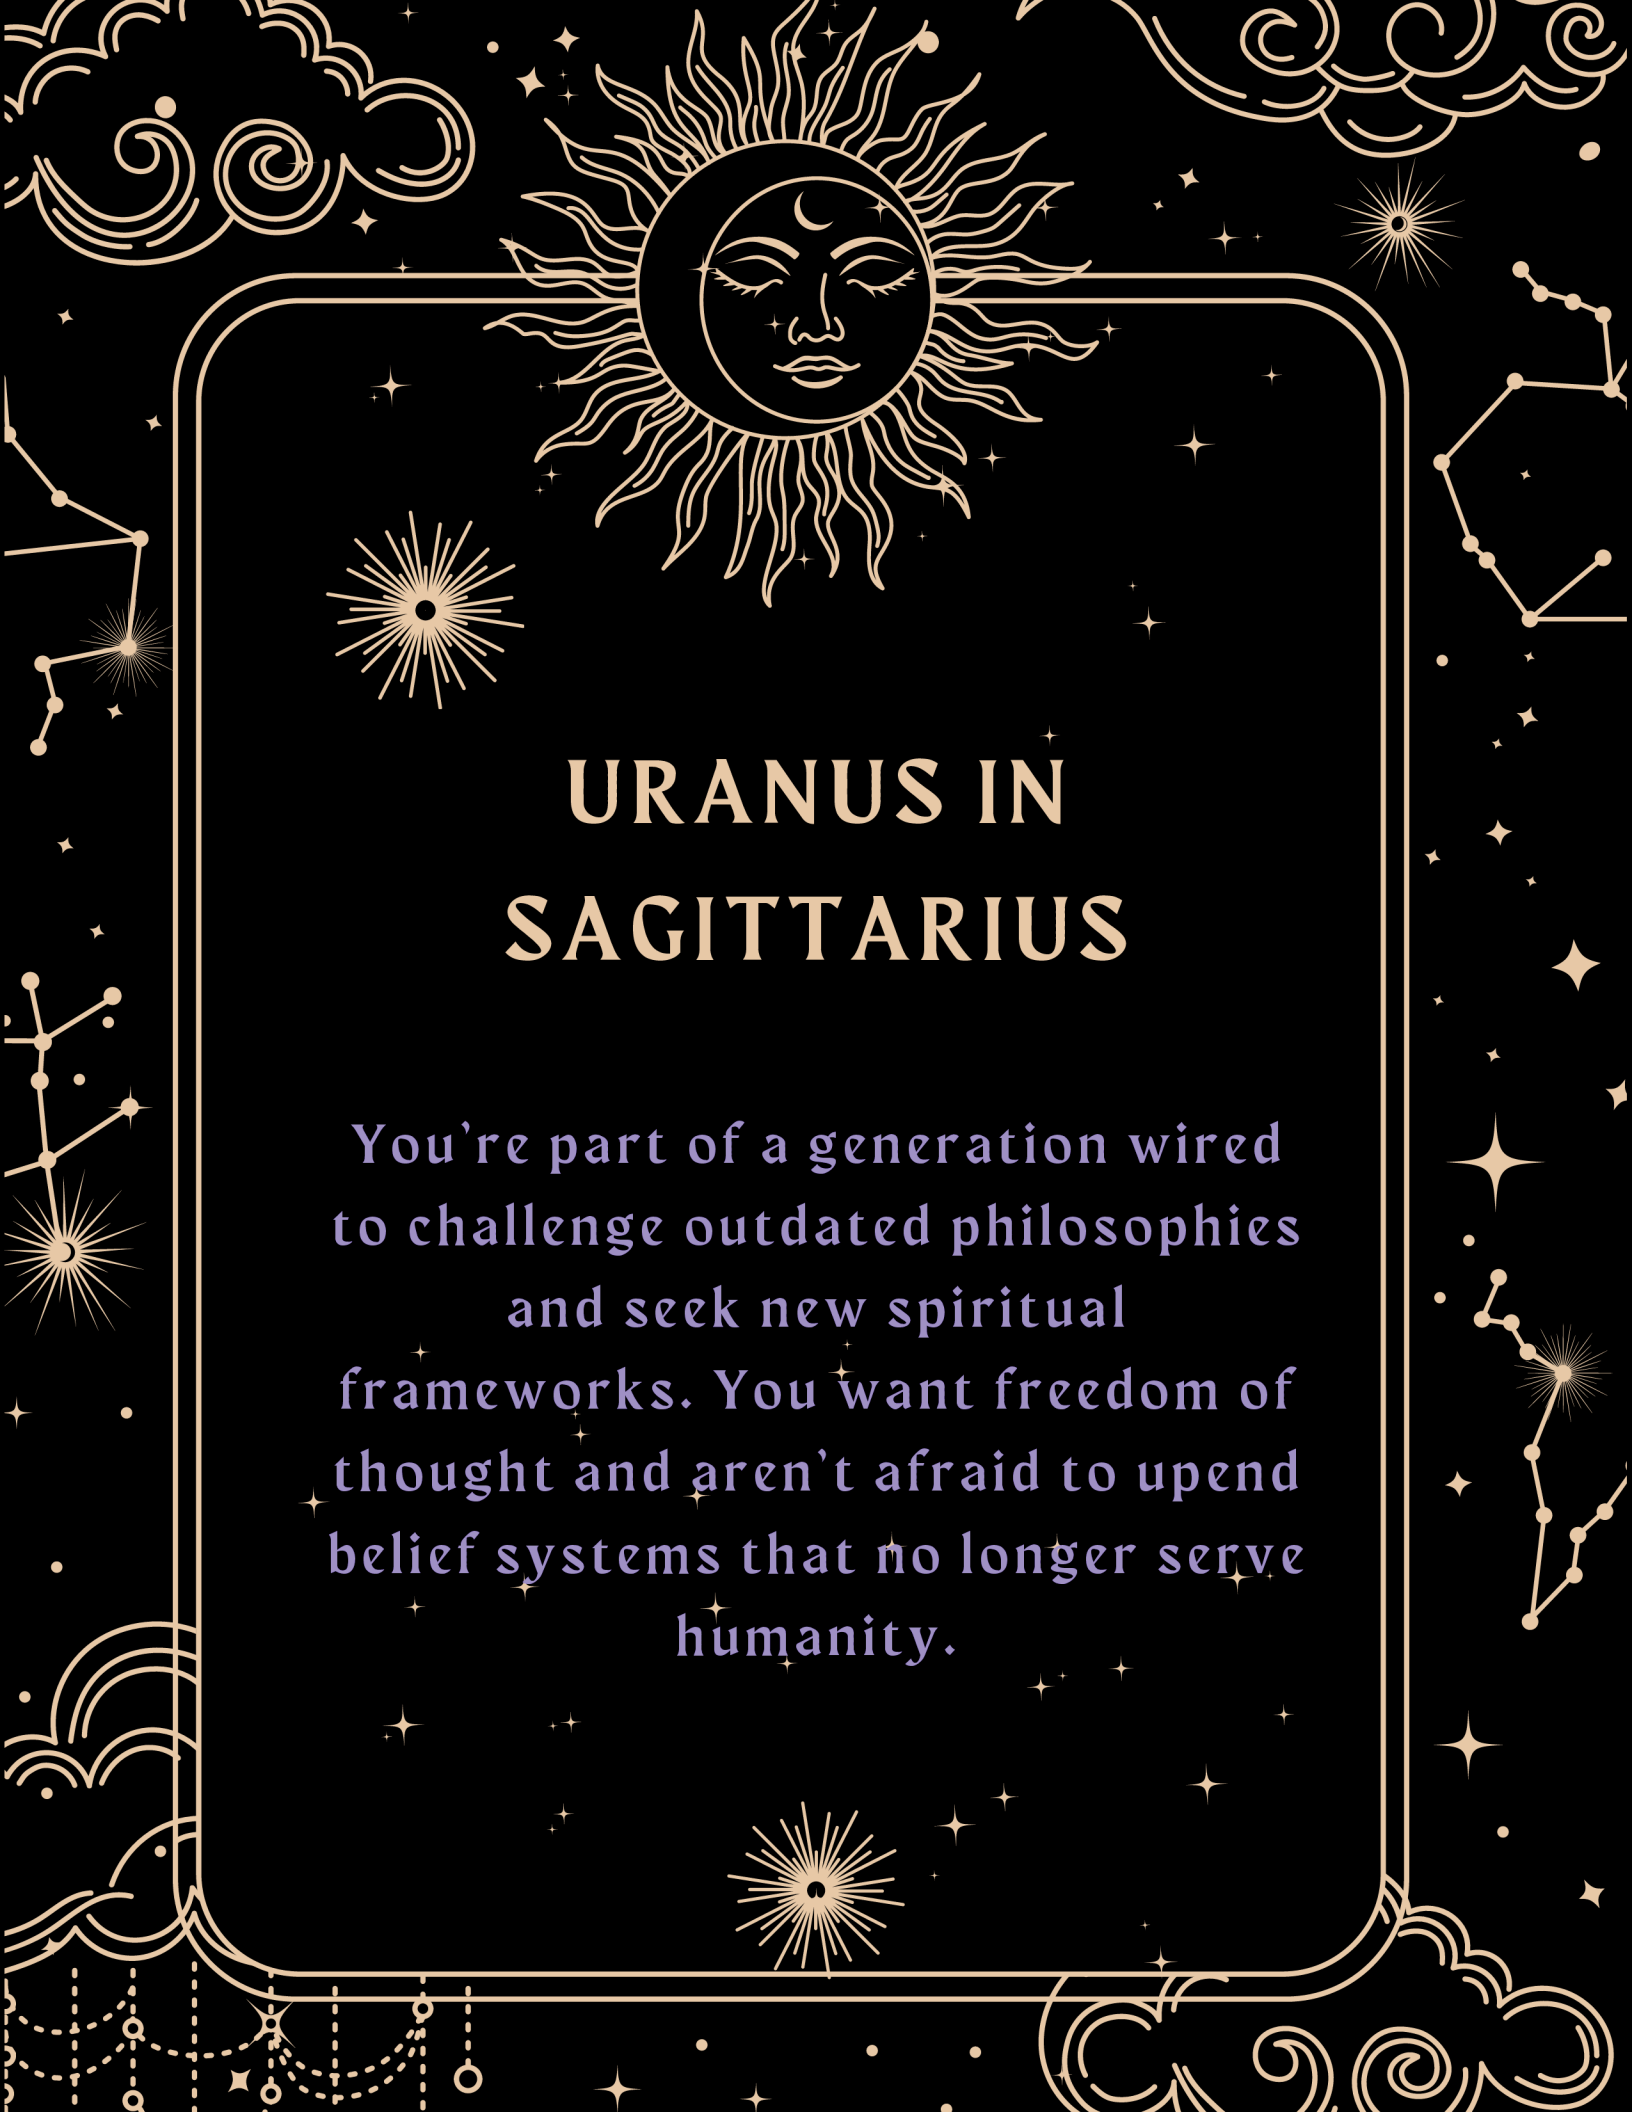

JUPITER IN ARIES

You grow and find luck when you're bold. Starting fresh, taking risks, and being a pioneer light up your life. You inspire others with your courage and drive.
Independence leads to expansion—
but impatience can be your Achilles' heel.

SATURN IN SAGITTARIUS

Your growth comes through learning and confronting your own beliefs. You may have struggled with authority or dogma growing up, but as you mature, you become a wise teacher or philosopher in your own right. Your challenge: to trust your own wisdom.

URANUS IN SAGITTARIUS

You're part of a generation wired to challenge outdated philosophies and seek new spiritual frameworks. You want freedom of thought and aren't afraid to upend belief systems that no longer serve humanity.

NEPTUNE IN CAPRICORN

You dream of building something lasting—maybe even redefining success for the next generation. This placement gives a practical edge to your creativity. You don't just dream; you want to make the dream real and tangible.

PLUTO IN SCORPIO

You're here to transform and be transformed. This generation is about going deep—into taboos, power structures, emotional wounds. You don't flinch at darkness. In fact, you lean in, because you know that's where the real growth is.

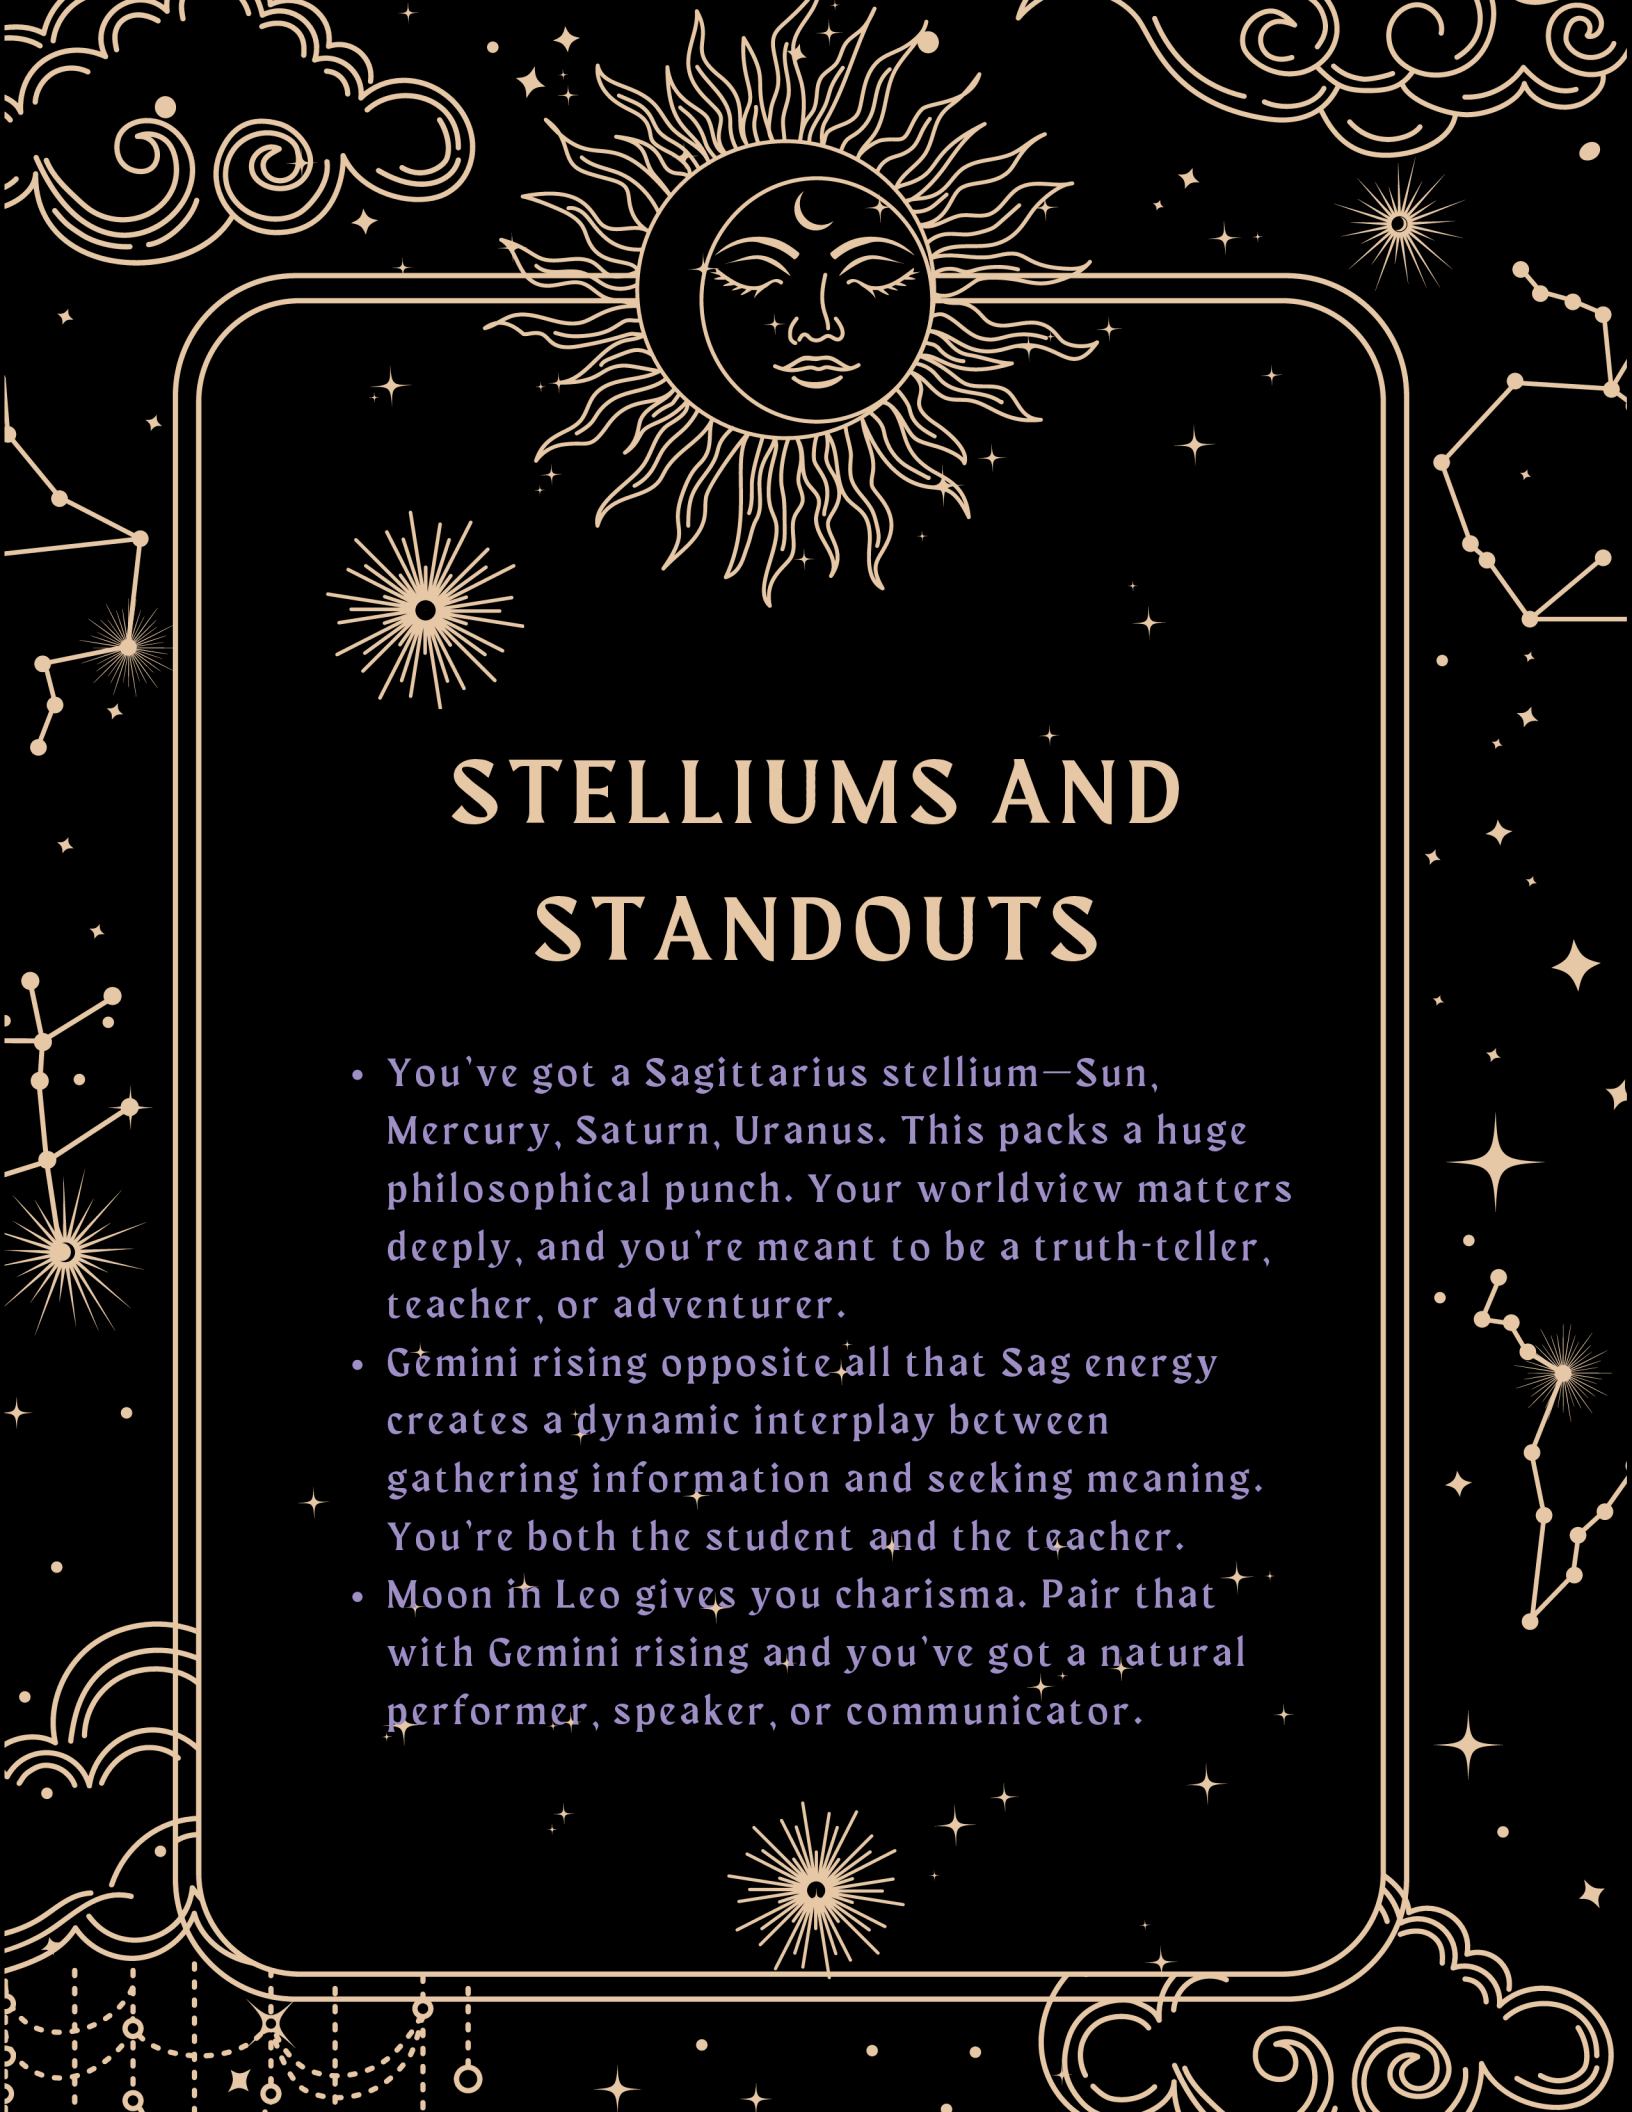

NORTH NODE IN PISCES (9TH HOUSE)

Your soul is learning to embrace intuition, spirituality, and faith. You've likely been conditioned to "know everything" or rely on logic—but growth comes when you let go of the need for control and trust something bigger. Your life purpose might involve travel, higher learning, or mystical experiences.

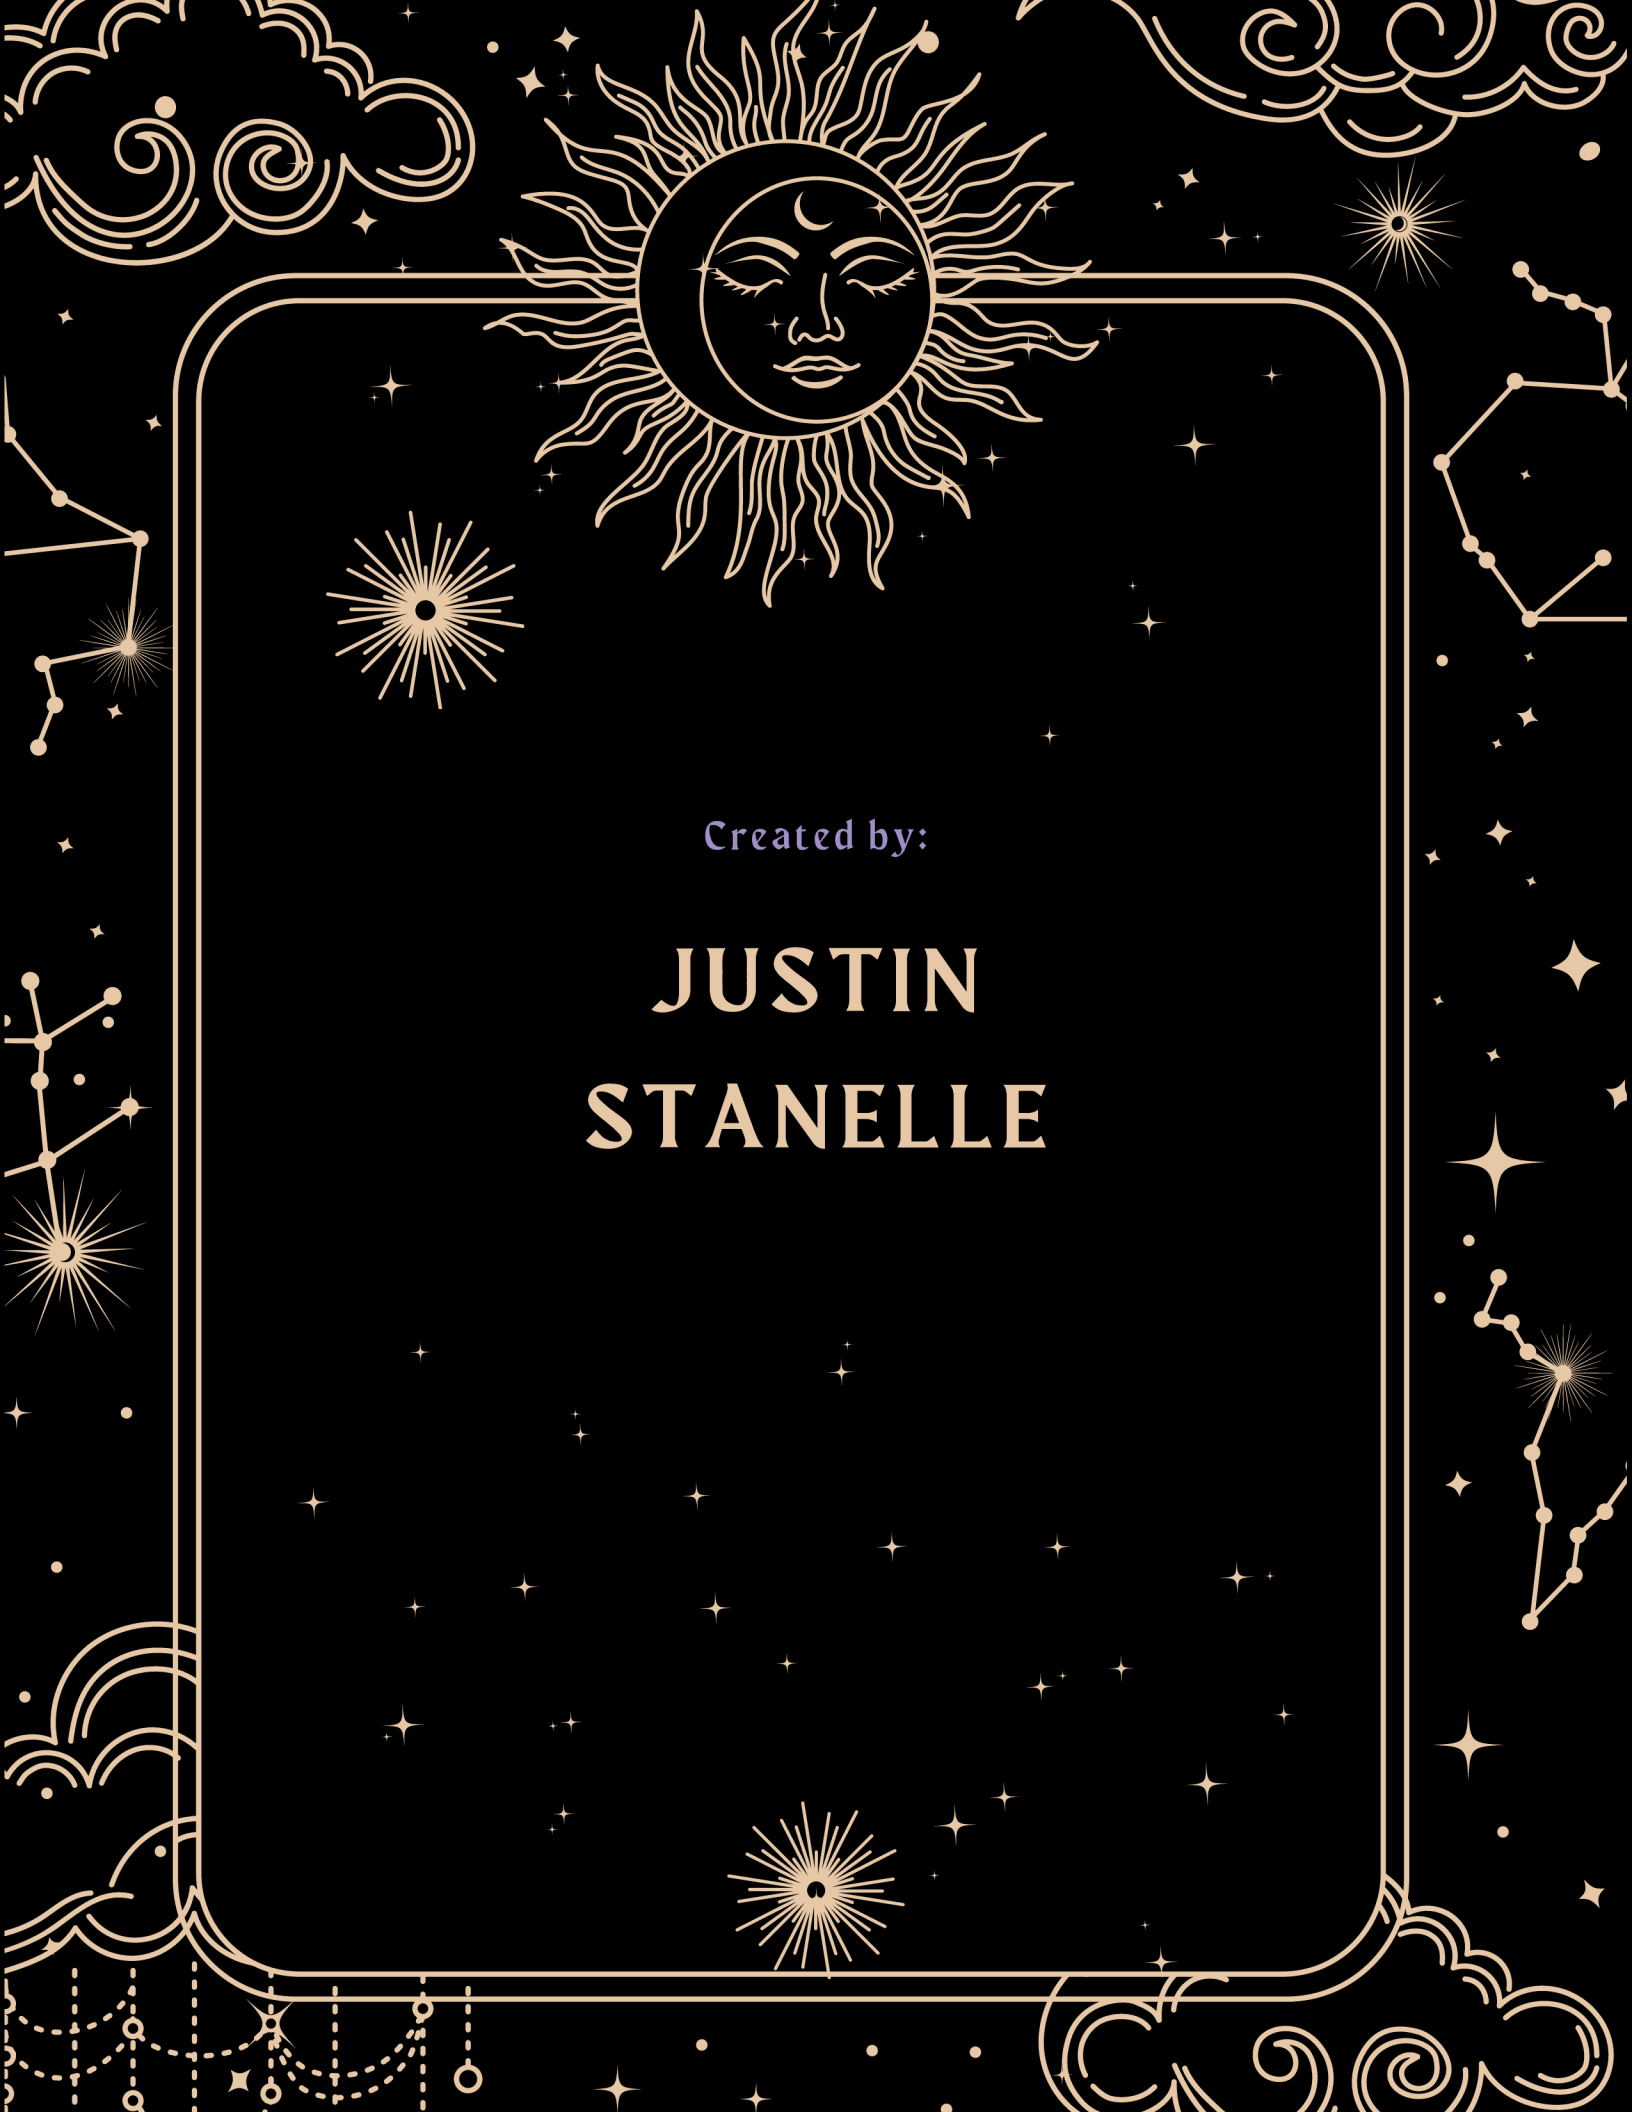

CHIRON IN GEMINI (1ST HOUSE)

There's a wound tied to self-expression—maybe you were misunderstood growing up or struggled to communicate who you really are. You may doubt your intellect or feel like a misfit, but you're also a powerful healer through words. Owning your voice is key.

STELLIUMS AND STANDOUTS

- You've got a Sagittarius stellium—Sun, Mercury, Saturn, Uranus. This packs a huge philosophical punch. Your worldview matters deeply, and you're meant to be a truth-teller, teacher, or adventurer.
- Gemini rising opposite all that Sag energy creates a dynamic interplay between gathering information and seeking meaning. You're both the student and the teacher.
- Moon in Leo gives you charisma. Pair that with Gemini rising and you've got a natural performer, speaker, or communicator.

Created by:

JUSTIN STANELLE